It Will Not Return Void

It was a cold wintry night when Dr. Moffat, a missionary from Africa, arrived to preach a sermon in a New England church. He had come to appeal for men to go to Africa as missionaries.

When Moffat looked over the small congregation, he saw a number of women, to his consternation, only one male was in the entire church; a boy pumping the organ in the loft. At first Dr. Moffat felt he should change his sermon, but he decided to go ahead with the one he had planned. Its text came from Proverbs 8:4: "Unto you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the sons of men."

The boy listened intently, drinking in words that thrilled him, words which proved that we never really know how what we say may affect other people. When he grew up and obtained his degree in medicine, it was that boy who remembered Dr. Moffat's plea and gave a lifetime of unselfish devotion to Africa and to Christianity. The boy's name was David Livingstone.

It is in Isaiah 55:11 that God through his prophet declares: "So shall My word be that goes forth from My mouth; It shall not return to Me void, but it shall accomplish what I please, and it shall prosper in the thing for which I sent it." The word of God can be trusted, plain and simple. It does not need to be tampered with or made to sound more acceptable to today's society. It just needs to be preached and proclaimed, and trusted to accomplish the intended purposes of God. All we need to do is share the gospel with everyone and trust the Holy Spirit to the saving of men. But give it out we must for that is the duty God has placed on our hands.
